

Word	Definition
insinuate	To hint something by subtle, cunning or artful means; to suggest tacitly while avoiding a direct statement.
rancor	The deepest malignity or spite; deep-seated enmity or malice; inveterate hatred.
intelligence	Capacity of mind, especially to understand principles, truths, facts or meanings, acquire knowledge, and apply it to practice; the ability to comprehend and learn.
conciliation	The process of bringing peace and harmony; the ending of strife.
sovereign	A monarch; the ruler of a country.
aggravate	To make (an offence) worse or more severe; to increase in offensiveness or heinousness.
innumerable	Not capable of being counted, enumerated, or numbered, hence, indefinitely numerous; of great number.
stockholder	A company or person that owns a portion of a business.
hyena	A mammal with very long front legs and shorter back legs, with a cry that sounds like strange human laughter and a diet consisting of the remains of dead animals.
engineer	A person who is qualified or professionally engaged in designing, constructing, or managing something physical.
speculation	The process of thinking or meditating on a subject; a conclusion to which the mind comes by speculating.
pugnacious	Naturally aggressive or hostile; combative; belligerent.
pristine	Unspoiled; uncorrupted or unsullied; perfect.
adroit	Deft, dexterous, or skillful.
appreciative	Capable of showing gratitude.
lurid	Shocking, horrifying.
indispensable	Absolutely necessary or requisite; that one cannot do without.
international	Of or having to do with more than one nation; independent of national boundaries and therefore common to all people.
property	Something that is owned; the exclusive right of possessing, enjoying and disposing of a thing.
marvelous	Exciting wonder or surprise; astonishing; wonderful; delightful.
ambassador	A minister of the highest rank sent to a foreign court to represent their sovereign or country.
paradise	The place where good souls are believed to live after death.
indignation	An anger aroused by something negative, notably an offense or injustice.
championship	A competition to determine a champion, especially the final of a series of competitions.
beneficiary	Holding some office or valuable possession, in subordination to another; one who benefits or receives an advantage.
enterprise	A company, business, organization, or other purposeful endeavor.
commercial	An advertisement in a common media format, usually radio or television.
conjugation	In some languages, one of several classifications of verbs according to what inflections they take.
benefactor	Someone who performs good or noble deeds.

exploitation	The improper use of something for selfish purposes.
perpetuate	To preserve from extinction or oblivion; continued for an indefinite time.
merciful	Showing kind treatment by someone who has some power over another.
president	Occupying the first rank or chief place; having the highest authority; primary leader of a corporation.
possession	Control or occupancy of something for which one does not necessarily have private property rights; keeping something as one's own.
advertisement	A commercial solicitation designed to sell some commodity, service or similar.
courtesy	Polite behavior; willingness or generosity in providing something needed.
tournament	A series of games; either the same game played many times, or a succession of games related by a single theme; played competitively to determine a single winning team or individual.
management	Administration; the use of limited resources combined with forecasting, planning, leadership and execution skills to achieve predetermined specific goals.
astonish	To surprise greatly.
accomplishment	The act of fulfilment; an achievement.
publicity	Advertising or other activity designed to rouse public interest in something.
exhaustive	Including every possible element; fully comprehensive.
entertainment	An activity designed to give pleasure, enjoyment, diversion, amusement, or relaxation to an audience.
strike	(physical) To have a sharp or sudden effect; to break forth; to commence suddenly.
meadow	A field or pasture; low land covered with coarse grass or rank herbage near rivers and in marshy places by the sea.
alleviate	To make less severe, as a pain or difficulty.
gaiety	The state of being happy or merry.
position	A place or location.
esophagus	The tube that carries food from the pharynx to the stomach.
prodigy	An extraordinary occurrence or creature; an extremely talented person, especially a child.
hostile	Not friendly, appropriate to an enemy; showing the disposition of an enemy; showing ill will and malevolence, or a desire to thwart and injure entrance	The action of going in some place.
argumentation	Inference based on reasoning from given propositions.
malice	To intend to cause harm; the desire to take pleasure in another's misfortune.
subtle	Hard to grasp; not obvious or easily understood; barely noticeable.
aggregate	A mass, assemblage, or sum of particulars; something consisting of elements but considered as a whole.
territory	A large extent or tract of land; for example a region, country or district.

enthusiasm	Something in which one is keenly interested; excited interest or eagerness.
convalescence	The period of time spent healing. bargain	An agreement between parties concerning the sale of property; to make a deal or contract for the exchange of property or services.
conversationalist	A person who participates in communication.
superintendent	A person who is authorized to supervise, direct or administer something.
ecstasy	To experience or cause intense pleasure; madness.
bishop	An overseer of congregations: generally speaking, an official in the church hierarchy governing a diocese and supervising the church's priests.
financier	One charged with the administration of finance; to carry out financial transactions.
certainty	A fact or truth unquestionably established.
variation	A partial change in the form, position, state, or qualities of a thing.
bulwark	A defensive wall or rampart.
industry	Businesses of the same type, considered as a whole; automated production of material goods.
cantankerous	Given to or marked by an ill-tempered nature; ill-tempered, cranky, surly, crabby.
strategy	The science and art of military command as applied to the overall planning and conduct of warfare.
quarrel	A verbal dispute or heated argument.
supervisor	A person with the official task of overseeing the work of a person or group, or of other operations and activities.
ambition	A personal quality similar to motivation, not necessarily tied to a single goal; the act of obtaining an object of desire.
temptation	Pressure applied to your thinking designed to create wrong emotions which will eventually lead to wrong actions.
temperament	A person's usual manner of thinking, behaving or reacting.
erudite	A learned or scholarly person, with emphasis on knowledge gained from books.
sympathetic	Of, related to, showing, or characterized by emotional support and empathy.
punctuation	A set of symbols and marks which are used to clarify meaning in text by separating strings of words into clauses, phrases and sentences.
objection	A statement expressing opposition, or a reason or cause for expressing opposition.
courteous	Showing regard or thought for others; especially, displaying good manners or etiquette.
multimillionaire	A person whose net worth is two or more million dollars, pounds, euros or some other currency.
shrewd	Showing clever resourcefulness in practical matters.
rapidity	Speed, swiftness; the condition of being quick.
manipulation	The usage of underhanded influence over a person, event, or situation to gain a desired outcome.
university	Institution of higher education where subjects are studied and researched in depth and degrees are offered.

callous	Emotionally hardened; unfeeling and indifferent to the suffering/feelings of others.
stubborn	Refusing to move or to change one's opinion; obstinate; firmly resisting; persistent in doing something.
importance	The quality or condition of being worthy of note; significance or prominence.
hospital	A large medical facility, usually in a building with multiple floors, where seriously ill or injured patients are given extensive medical and/or surgical treatment.
correspondence	Friendly discussion; an agreement of situations or objects with an expected outcome.
counterfeit	Assuming the appearance of something; deceitful; a fake.
skirmish	A brief battle between small groups, usually part of a longer or larger battle or war.
principle	A fundamental assumption or guiding belief.
anatomy	The science that deals with the form and structure of organic bodies; to discover their situation, structure, and economy.
college	An academic institution; a specialized division of a university that offers vocational training and/or associate's degrees.
futility	Something, especially an act, that is useless; unimportance.
subordinate	Submissive or inferior to, or controlled by authority; one who is placed in a lower class, rank, or position.
cigarette	Tobacco or other substances, in a thin roll wrapped with paper, intended to be smoked. congestion	The hindrance or blockage of the passage of something, resulting in overflowing or overcrowding.
temperature	A measure of cold or heat; an elevated body temperature, as present in fever and many illnesses.
crocodile	A large reptile that is found in tropical swamps with thick, tough skin, a long tail, and a long, pointed snout with many teeth.
fortune	Destiny, especially favorable; a large amount of money owned by one person.
jamboree	A boisterous or lavish celebration or party.
reverberate	To ring or sound with many echos.
handicap	Something that prevents, hampers, or hinders.
orphan	A person, especially a minor, whose parents have died.
resignation	A written or oral declaration that one stops working.
maxim	A precept; a succinct statement or observation of a rule of conduct or moral teaching.
legerdemain	Sleight of hand; a show of skill or deceitful ability.
direction	A theoretical line (physically or mentally) followed from a point of origin or towards a destination. May be relative (e.g. up, left, outbound, dorsal), geographical (e.g. north), rotational (e.g. clockwise), or with respect to an object or location (e.g. toward Boston).
expeditious	(of a process or thing) Completed or done with efficiency and speed; facilitating speed.
encyclopedia	A comprehensive text that acts as a summary of general knowledge, or of a branch of knowledge.
quotation	A fragment of a human expression that is repeated by somebody else.
acknowledge	To recognize as a fact or truth; to declare one's belief in a particular quality, character or relationship.

responsible	The individual who bears the duty of taking care of something.
gambler	One who plays at a game of chance; one who takes significant risks.
dangerous	Ready to do harm or injury; a condition of being threatened, as from illness.
determination	The quality of mind which reaches definite conclusions; decision of character; resoluteness.
monotonous	Having an unvarying tone or pitch.
tenant	One who pays a fee (rent) in return for the use of land, buildings, or other property owned by others.
manufacturer	One that creates and distributes large quantities of specific objects.
representative	A delegate; having the same properties or interest as a larger group..
blunder	A clumsy or embarrassing mistake.
epitaph	An inscription on a gravestone in memory of the deceased.
federation	Any society or organisation formed from separate groups or bodies, joining together into a single political entity.
divinity	A supernatural divine being; the study of religion or religions.
squirrel	A rodent distinguished by a large, bushy tail and a love of nuts.
secretary	Someone entrusted as a confidant; the head of a department of government.
humorous	Full of arousing laughter; witty, jocular.
hammock	A swinging couch or bed, usually made of netting or canvas about six feet wide, suspended by clews or cords at the ends.
announcement	An act of giving notice or conveying content.
excellent	Having excelled; exceptionally good of its kind.
grievance	Something which causes feelings of being wronged; outrage.
civilization	An organized culture encompassing many communities, often on the scale of a nation or a people; a stage or system of social, political or technical development.
atonement	Making amends to restore a damaged relationship; expiation.
recognition	Acceptance as valid or true; honour, favourable note, or attention.
stipend	A scholarship granted to a student.
employee	An individual who provides labor to a company or another person.
coax	To carefully manipulate into a particular desired state, situation or position.
champion	An ongoing winner in a game or contest; to defeat all one's competitors.
exquisite	Especially fine or pleasing; of special beauty or rare excellence.
lollipop	An item of confectionery consisting of a piece of candy/sweet attached to a stick.
periodical	A publication issued regularly, but less frequently than daily.

accident	An unexpected event with negative consequences occurring without the intention of the one suffering the consequences.
prerogative	A property, attribute or ability which gives one a superiority or advantage over others; an inherent advantage or privilege; a talent.
personage	A person, especially one who is famous or important.
advertising	Communication whose purpose is to influence potential customers about products and services.
psychologist	An expert in the field of psychology.
ridicule	Derision; mocking or humiliating words or behaviour.
mutual	Having the same relationship; collective, done or held in common.
eviction	The act of being forced out of one's home due to some issue or problem.
repercussion	A consequence or ensuing result of some action.
ridiculous	Deserving to be called foolish or absurd; unbelievable.
spigot	A pin or peg used to stop the vent in a cask.
feeble	Lacking force, vigor, or efficiency in action or expression; deficient in physical strength illicit	A banned or unlawful item.
pedigree	A chart, list, or record of ancestors, to show breeding, especially distinguished breeding.
underprivileged	Deprived of the opportunities and advantages of others, usually through no fault of one's own.
kindergarten	An educational institution for young children, usually between ages 4 and 6; nursery school.
perfunctory	Done only to fulfil a duty, or in a careless or indifferent manner; performed mechanically and as a thing of rote.
nebulous	In the form of a cloud or haze; hazy.
beautiful	Someone who is attractive and seems unusually pretty.
chronic	Of a problem, that continues over an extended period of time.
suave	For one to be charming, confident and elegant.
tantamount	Something which has the same value or amount (as something else); to be equivalent.
forgiveness	The action of accepting one's apology and no longer blaming them for a negative act.
jealousy	A state of suspicious guarding towards someone for a perceived advantage or superiority they hold.
diplomat	A person, such as an ambassador, who is accredited to represent a government officially in its relations with other governments or international organisations.
orthopedic	Of, or relating to orthopedics.
disciplinarian	A person who believes in or practises control or determination brought about by training; self-control.
chauffeur	A person employed to drive a private motor car or a hired car of executive or luxury class, like a limousine.
surrender	An act of submission into the possession of another; to give up into the power, control, or possession of another.

detriment	Harm, hurt, or damage something.
architect	A professional who designs buildings or other structures, or who prepares plans and superintends construction.
gadget	Any device or machine, especially one whose name cannot be recalled. Often either clever or complicated.
pioneer	To be the first to do or achieve (something), preparing the way for others to follow.
belligerent	Aggressively hostile, eager to fight; uncooperative.
disease	An abnormal condition of a human, animal or plant that causes discomfort or dysfunction; distinct from injury insofar as the latter is usually instantaneously acquired.
ghetto	An area of a city in which is seen as unseemly and indecorous or of low quality; cheap; shabby, crude.
satellite	A machine that orbits the earth in order to provide the reception of television broadcasts or internet services.
triumph	A conclusive success following an effort, conflict, or confrontation of obstacles; victory; conquest.
maverick	Showing independence in thoughts or actions.
sermon	Religious discourse; a written or spoken address on a religious or moral matter.
condemn	To strongly criticise or denounce; to judicially pronounce (someone) guilty.
notorious	Widely known, especially for something negative; infamous.
umpire	A match official on the ground deciding and enforcing the rules during play.
perplex	To cause to feel baffled; to puzzle.
mandate	An official or authoritative command; an order or injunction; a commission; a judicial precept.
primitive	Of or pertaining to or harking back to a former time; old-fashioned; characterized by simplicity.
interlocutor	A person who takes part in dialogue or conversation.
profitable	Producing an excess of money.
integrity	Steadfast adherence to a strict moral or ethical code.
medalist	One who has received an award of a metal disk, usually appearing as a bronze, silver, or gold pendant.
overconfidence	An excessive or unwarranted degree of confidence.
daughter	One's female offspring.
famine	Extreme shortage of food in a region.
committee	A body of one or more persons convened for the accomplishment of some specific purpose, typically with formal protocols.
attorney	A lawyer; one who advises or represents others in legal matters as a profession.
gnawing	To bite something persistently, especially something tough.
foolish	Lacking good sense or judgement; unwise.
organism	A discrete and complete living thing, such as animal, plant, fungus or microorganism.
generous	Noble in behaviour or actions; principled, not petty; kind, magnanimous.

community	A group sharing a common understanding, and often the same language, law, manners, and/or tradition.
candor	The state of being sincere and open in speech; honesty in expression.
fallacious	Deceptive or misleading.
advantage	Any condition, circumstance, opportunity or means, particularly favorable to success, or to any desired end.
foundation	The act of fixing, establishing, or beginning to erect the start of something; that upon which anything starts from.
veterinarian	A medical doctor who treats animals.
compliment	An expression of praise, congratulation, or respect; to express a favorable opinion of someone or something.
tuition	A sum of money paid for instruction (such as in a high school, boarding school, university, or college).
capitalise	In writing or editing, to write something in upper case letters; to profit or to obtain an advantage.
porridge	A dish made of grain or legumes, milk and/or water, heated and stirred until thick and typically eaten for breakfast.
aristocracy	The nobility, or the hereditary ruling class.
tremendous	Awe-inspiring; notable for its size, power, or excellence.
executive	A chief officer or administrator, especially one who can make significant decisions on their own authority.
messenger	One who brings information or communication between people or groups.
chivalrous	(of a man) Honourable, especially to women; gallant.
approbation	The act of approving; sanction, commendation or official recognition.
diamond	A glimmering glass-like mineral that is used in jewelry, especially engagement rings.
novelist	An author of longer works.
weary	Having the strength exhausted by toil or exertion; tired; fatigued.
ministry	Government department; the complete body of government officials under the leadership of a head of government.
satisfied	To do enough for; to meet the needs of; to fulfill the wishes or requirements of.
superb	First-rate; of the highest quality; exceptionally good.
pacifist	One who opposes violence and is anti-war.
paraffin	A petroleum-based thin and colorless fuel oil.
envelope	A paper or cardboard wrapper used to enclose small, flat items, especially letters, for mailing.
patronage	The act of providing approval and support; granting favours or giving contracts or making appointments to office in return for political support.
occurrence	An actual instance when a situation occurs; an event or happening.
opinion	A subjective belief, judgment or perspective that a person has formed about a topic, issue, person or thing.
parlance	A certain way of speaking, of using words, especially when it comes to those with a particular job or interest.
sublime	Something impressive and awe-inspiring, yet simple.

enlargement	The act of making something more obvious or serious; exacerbation.
illuminating	To shine light on something.
antagonism	A strong natural dislike or hatred; antipathy.
discipline	A controlled behaviour; to train someone by instruction and practice.
nevertheless	In spite of what preceded; yet.
knowledge	The general understanding or familiarity with a subject, place, situation; the state of appreciating truth or information.
alibi	The plea or mode of defense under which a person on trial for a crime proves or attempts to prove being in another place when the alleged act was committed interpersonal	Between two or more people.
injunction	The act of enjoining; the act of directing, commanding, or prohibiting.
children	A person who has not yet reached adulthood, whether natural (puberty), cultural (initiation), or legal (majority).
campaign	A series of operations undertaken to achieve a set goal.
magnate	Powerful industrialist; a person of rank, influence or distinction in any sphere.
procrastinate	To delay taking action; to wait until later.
dogmatic	Asserting beliefs in a superior or arrogant way; opinionated, dictatorial.
benign	Not harmful to the environment; gentle, mild.
immigrant	A non-native person who comes to a country from another country in order to permanently settle there.
python	A type of large constricting snake.
banquet	A large celebratory meal; a feast.
geniality	The quality of being friendly; cheerfulness; warmth of disposition and manners.
qualification	A certificate, diploma, or degree awarded after successful completion of a course, training, or exam.
friendliness	The quality of being open with one's emotions in order to connect with other people.
gallantry	Chivalrous courtliness, especially towards women.
opportunity	A chance for advancement, progress or profit.
persistence	The act of continuing steadily in a course of action; the quality of being steadfast, determined, or stubborn.
squeak	A short, high-pitched sound, as of two objects rubbing together, or the calls of small animals.
indignant	Showing anger or indignation, especially at something unjust or wrong.
predicament	An unfortunate or trying position or condition; a tight spot.
nocturnal	A person or creature that is active at night.
mortgage	A special loan where one may purchase fixed property, such as a house.
rhododendron	A shrub or small tree with flat evergreen leaves and clusters of bright pink, red, purple, white, or yellow flowers.

qualified	Meeting the standards, requirements, and training for a position; to make someone, or to become competent or eligible for some position or task.
disadvantage	A weakness or undesirable characteristic; a con.
merchandise	Commodities offered for sale.
instinctively	Innately; by instinct; without being taught.
technique	The practical aspects of a given art or occupation; practical ability, as opposed to creativity or imaginative skill.
proverb	A phrase expressing a basic truth which may be applied to common situations.
chrysalis	The pupa of a butterfly or moth, enclosed inside a cocoon, in which metamorphosis takes place.
liability	A handicap that holds something back, a drawback, someone or something that is a burden to whoever is required to take care of them.
prestige	The quality of how good the reputation of something or someone is, how favourably something or someone is regarded.
aggressiveness	The state or quality of being angry and physically ready to attack.
salary	A fixed amount of money paid to a worker, usually calculated on a monthly or annual basis.
goad	To encourage or stimulate; to incite or provoke.
superior	A person of higher rank or quality; greater or better than average.
enumerate	To specify each member of a sequence individually in order.
stupendous	Astonishingly great or large; huge; enormous.
scholarship	A financial grant-in-aid to a student.
magazine	A non-academic periodical publication, generally consisting of sheets of paper folded in half and stapled at the fold.
masterpiece	A piece of work that has been given much critical praise, especially one that is considered the greatest work of a person's career.
medicine	A substance which specifically promotes healing when ingested or consumed in some way.
unavailable	Unavailing; not able to be found or to do something.
botany	The scientific study of plants, a branch of biology.
languish	To lose strength and become weak; to be in a state of weakness or sickness.
rebuke	To criticise harshly; to reprove.